

b. Identify and describe two limitations on the president's policymaking power.

- Congress has the power of the purse. Although the president can make policy proposals, only Congress can appropriate funds.
- The Supreme Court has judicial review. The Supreme Court can review the constitutionality of executive orders or regulations promulgated by the bureaucracy.